USE OF COMPANY CREDIT CARDS

Use of a company-issued credit card comes with certain rules and responsibilities.

Your company-issued credit card should be used for all business expenses wherever it is accepted.

If a personal credit card must be used, the reason must be explained on your expense report.

Can I charge personal expenses on my company credit card as long as I pay for them myself and don't ask for reimbursement?

- No – our company credit card agreement contains a commitment that we will not use them for personal expenses.
